

An Overview of the Information Centre

Welcome to the Information Centre

Overview

This information centre is where you can access different news services about school life. You'll be able to access such items as newsletters, blogs, essential dates and much more. Just look through the list below. You can click on the item to view its details.

On this page you can either sign up to receive information from the centre
(click on the image to the right to view and fill in the form)

or access the different information areas
(click on the name of each forum which is written in blue.)

All of the forums work in exactly the same way.

Once you've clicked on a forum area you can see a title area at the top and then beneath it the different information postings that have been added to this area.

To get back to the main menu again just click on the logo.

Once you have your login account you can update any of these forums as often as you like and each time you create a new item it will be emailed out to all of the parents informing them that it is there.

All of the forums work the same way so once you know how to update the blog you'll also know how to update any other area.

To find out how to add new forum postings into the information centre go onto the next lesson: “Adding a blog entry”.
